AUDITORS REPORT

Auditor Brandy Grace gave the Commissioners various invoices and Overtime Report to review and approve for payment through the Auditor's Office.

Auditor Grace gave the Commissioners the Check Edit Report of September 9, 2005 to review and sign.

Auditor Grace reported she had received the final approved tax rates from the Utah State Tax Commission. Millard County's general tax rate is .003462 and the assessing and collecting tax rate is .000226. These tax rates were approved by the Commissioners.

Auditor Grace said she had received a request from Justin Nielson to purchase the old West Millard Care Center in Delta. The offer for both the building and the property is for fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00). The Commissioners will review the request and the intended use and will make a decision at next week's meeting.

Auditor Grace reported the preliminary report from PEHP shows an increase of 20-24 percent. The rising cost of insurance concerns the Commissioners. Attorney Jackson said UCIP was planning on offering insurance to counties at a lower rate and the Commissioners will look into the insurance plan to see if it is something the county would desire to purchase.

Auditor Grace said the website millardcounty.org is up and running. The Frontpage program was used to write the pages and training for some selected Millard County employees to learn the system was considered. The cost for five students is $170.00 @ person, for seven students the cost is $155.00 or for ten or more students the cost is $140.00 @ person. The training will be offered to Richard Beckstrand, Brandy Grace, Bonnie Gehre, Sheryl Dekker, Sheriff's Office and any others that are interested in the training.

Auditor Grace reported the review of the county CERT funds with the Commissioners. Of the original $50,000, there is a balance of about $26,124.21. Some of the CERT Teams are interested in purchasing radios to help with communication issues. The county had originally planned to give emergency funds at $2.50 for each resident but there is not enough money left in the account after paying for the eight trailers and other supplies for that amount to be paid to each resident therefore a fair way to allocate the balance of funds to the communities will be determined.

Auditor Grace reported she had three indigent abatements applications for consideration from the Commission. The first request was from Celeste Lisonbee for her property with serial number S1244. Along with the request was a copy of her income tax return, and an explanation why the abatement was needed. The Commissioners reviewed and discussed the request.

Commissioner Walker made a motion to award Celeste Lisonbee a hardship abatement for twenty-five (25 percent) of the property taxes with serial number S 1244 based on her income.

Commissioner Smith SECONDED. The voting was unanimous. The motion carried.

The second request was for a hardship abatement was from Selma Lazaro for D 646-1. There was no income tax return with the application and Auditor Grace was asked to request a tax return from Selma Lazaro before the Commissioners would make a decision on this request.

The third request was from Terri Hoover for three properties F 38, F 38-1, and F 30-2. The primary residence is the only property that can be considered for an abatement. After review and consideration, Commissioner Smith made a motion to deny the request for an abatement.

Commissioner Walker SECONDED. The voting was unanimous. The motion carried.

Auditor Grace reported the 2005 Charity Plan has been submitted by Fillmore Community Center and Delta Community Center and is ready for Commissioners review.

Auditor Grace said the budgets worksheets have been handed out and are due Friday, September 16, 2005. She inquired how the Commissioners wanted to proceed with the budget process this year? The Commissioners authorized the Auditor to set up individual appointments with the elected officials and department heads in the afternoons of September 19 and 26 and the morning of September 28, 2005 to talk about their budgets and the COLA.

DAN ROWLEY - FILLMORE CITY AIRPORT LAYOUT PLAN

NOON LUNCH BREAK

MILLARD COUNTY ASSESSOR JIM TALBOT - BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

Millard County Assessor Jim Talbot and Chief Deputy Susan Duncan reviewed all the changes made by the Assessor's Office on property tax assessments. Some corrections and some adjustments have been made. The office has been calling people who have been affected by the adjustments.

Questions and Concerns of the County Commissioners

Why have commercial properties gone up so much even with the adjustments that have been made, especially in Delta?

What is the time, location, and depreciation factors?

It is hard for the businesses to come up so much money for taxes all at one time.

Would it have been better to have the increases been more gradual?

What is the formula or multiplier that is used for appraising? Is that information available for each county?

The time is not right and the situation too delicate to put pressure on the legislature.

Pressure should be put on the Centrally Assessed.

How could the whole situation be avoided in the future so it doesn't happen again.

Is the Assessor's Office mandated to do a reappraisal every five years.

Attorney Jackson Questions

What seems to be the biggest concern of the Commissioners the values or that nothing was done by the Assessor's Office for fifteen years?

Auditor Grace Comments

It appears there are two separate issues that need to be considered. The issue of the centrally assessed tax shift and the re-evaluation of commercial property both affect the taxpayer, however, they need to be addressed individually.

Assessor Jim Talbot Comments to Questions of the County Commissioners

The reason Delta's business assessments have gone up so high is the economy and the rents. The Assessor's Office has called the people who were given tax adjustments.

Assessor Talbot thinks that the county should put some pressure on the legislature.

Assessor Talbot said that Commissioners in the past did not want the reappraisal done of commercial property during their terms.

It takes a lot of people and resources to do a reappraisal. By having the state help, it has saved the county several hundred thousand dollars.

We have one company that taxes keeps going down and down and until that changes we will keep picking up their taxes.

The only option we have is to stipulate values.

The deadline for the tax payers to appeal is September 15, 2005. Any remaining tax assessment requests will be reported at Commission meeting on September 19, 2005.

The Commissioners will look into the issues of the property tax evaluations and try to make some kind of consideration toward easing the burdens if possible.

PROJECT PROPOSAL

Date: August 3, 2005

Project Title: Pahvant Upland Game Area Restoration

Background: As a result of Millard County flood control efforts, wildlife habitat on the Pahvant Upland Game Wildlife Management Area owned by the Utah Division of Wildlife Resources was destroyed. An estimated $37,00.00 worth of damage occurred as a result of the flood control activity in May. As a result of discussions between commissioner John Cooper and Lynn Zubeck, (wildlife biologist) concerning mitigation, the Division of Wildlife Resources proposes that the following actions be taken to restore important wildlife habitat.

Project: The project consists of three main recommendations to improve wildlife habitat on the Pahvant WMA. Proposed restoration includes tree planting, installation of a drip system for watering trees/shrubs, and bank reshaping. A brief description of the three categories is as follows:

1. Tree planting - One hundred four-foot Russian Olive trees and two hundred Silver Buffaloberry shrubs and/or Eastern Red Cedar trees will be purchased and planted at the Pahvant WMA. Some of the trees will be planted on the existing drip system, and the remainder will be planted on a new drip system.
2. Drip system installation - One lift (3,202 feet) of 1.5" PVC pipe and fittings will be purchase and used to construct a drip irrigation system, which will irrigate trees and shrubs planted at the Pahvant WMA. The pipe will be assembled and buried under the direction of UDWR biologist Lynn Zubeck.
3. Bank reshaping - Millard County Road Department will be responsible for reshaping the banks of the ditch that was altered by the county during May 2005. The contour work will be completed and the banks re-seeded to prevent erosion and minimize future flooding concerns.

Cost: The total cost of materials for the project is estimated to be approximately $6,000.00 for trees, chicken wire, mulch, etc. The attached table shows specific costs and in kind contributions. Millard County will contribute funds in the amount of approximately $6,000 toward this project, and the UDWR will manage that account.

Time line: Project implementation should begin in the fall/winter of 2005 with a completion date of January 1, 2007.
